

Teachers' Appreciation Workshop

04-06 Nov. 2023, Venue: 1st Floor, Council Building, BUET

Organized by: Directorate of Continuing Education (DCE), BUET

Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology, Dhaka

The course fosters an understanding of the university teacher as a professional scholar ready to engage in teaching informed by research, models of good practice, a spirit of inquiry, and critical intellectual engagement. Our approach to teaching in higher education combines knowledge of theoretical foundations, a strong practice orientation, and an appreciation for collaborative, inquiry-driven, and technology-enhanced learning environments.

This course will allow for the development of your own teaching approaches and values through a combination of reading, reflective writing, and practical tasks. You will gain a research-driven foundation for your work as twenty-first century scholar-teachers through the study of key issues and experimentation in a variety of approaches.

Thus, the main goals of the course are as follows:

- To facilitate preparation for future academic careers by providing participants with an intellectual and practical grounding in the skills associated with academic teaching;
- To develop effective teaching approaches and techniques in the context of a class session;
- To begin linking the design, facilitation, and assessment of a class session with the broader course and curriculum in which we teach;
- To develop participants' critical self-awareness of how to grow and develop as a scholar-teacher.
